The City in Brief.

S. A. Kenner, Duke of Logan, showed up on Ogden streets yesterday, and will see the carnival through.

Hon. F. A. Hammond of San Juan county, formerly bishop of Huntsville, was in the city yesterday.

The telephone wires between Brigham City, Logan, Richmond and other points in Cache valley, were kept hot yesterday by parties desiring to get in country produce and fruits. They were assured that a plentiful supply could be had.

T. S. Tod received the limit of the law, his sentence for the killing of Desmond being five years' imprisonment.

A carload of watermelons from Georgia—the first ever imported into Utah—came in yesterday and were at once distributed among the dealers in the city. They are fine looking and nice, but almost beyond the reach of a newspaper man's slim purse. The very smallest are priced at 50 cents each, and the largest at $1.00.

The new Knights of Pythias lodge will not be instituted until after the close of the carnival. Thirty-nine names have been signed to the roll and when the time comes for instituting the lodge there will be upwards of forty-five charter members.

Yesterday afternoon Charley Hing, a gentleman from the orient, broke into the house of Chiu Chan, another subject of the Heavly Kingdom, and stole about seventy-five dollars. The loss was made known and a warrant sworn out for Hing's arrest. Deputy marshal Bowman found the thief in Hing's meat market, where he was trying to convert a lot of silver into gold, and took from him $50.05. The prisoner was taken before Commissioner Cross, pleaded guilty and was placed under a $3,000 bond. This he was unable to furnish, so last evening he was taken to the pen by Deputy Marshal M. D. Hoge, Jr.

Where west half of Lester park is a city of tents. Seats for the weary have been placed underneath the trees in the grateful shade. Pipes have been connected with the street mains and carry pure water to all parts of the grounds. The pavilion is used as a refreshment room and refreshment tables are placed on the outside of the roadways.

Fifty special policemen have been sworn in. They will be useful in many ways.

The Ogden Light Guard, acting as special policemen, were stationed on Twenty-fourth street, at the Grant avenue crossing, yesterday afternoon, during the tournament, to prevent teams from driving along the street at that point. Several parties tried to get through, but were turned back.

H. H. Henderson, clerk of the first district court and president of the Ogden Power company, returned a day or two ago from a visit to the east. While absent he was in Syracuse, New York, and the states of Illinois, Ohio and Michigan. The Ogden Power company is now on a substantial basis and the work of building the dams, etc., will be proceeded with speedily. The men now controlling this important work are not adventurers, but wealthy and progressive citizens of Ogden.

Thirty-two cowboys from Owyhee county, Idaho, arrived Sunday night and went into camp in the northern suburbs. There were thirty-two of them and they brought 130 horses, tents, camp equipment and all of the paraphernalia of the range.

The Ogden Press club have been tendered an excursion to Syracuse by the managers of that popular resort.

Ditching for the new iron water pipes is going on on the bench and in other parts of the city.

J. A. McMurphy, representing the Omaha Republican, is in the city and will furnish that paper with a good account of the carnival. Mack is a newspaper man of experience.

The free postal delivery system goes into operation to-day in Ogden. This will greatly relieve the pressure on the post-office.

Yesterday's arrivals were numerous and all were taken care of and comfortably housed by the committee.

M. W. Butler, of Trenton, Cache county, formerly of Ogden, is in town visiting his old friends and taking in the sights.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Nelson will entertain the king during his stay in the city, at their residence at the corner of Twenty-third street and Adams avenue.

Mayor and Mrs. Kiesel will entertain the queen and a number of her majesty's attendants at their handsome residence on the bench.

F. G. Barnes, of Rock Springs, a prominent Knight of Pythias, is in this city. Rev. J. F. Moody, the new pastor, preached his first sermon last Sunday, and is very much liked.

When Tod was asked whether he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him he said: "Judge, it was merely a matter as to who should get killed."

The Union passenger station has been elegantly decorated.

J. J. Dickey, superintendent of the Western Union telegraph, with headquarters in Omaha, and his family, arrived in this city yesterday.

A big whistle, just put up at the union depot, was blown at 12 o'clock last night. It's a roarer and its hoarse voice can be heard in Salt Lake city under favorable atmospheric conditions.

The Methodist university is to have a newspaper organ to be called the Herald. Sam Small and Rev. Hill will run the concern, or try to.

Only a fool or a knave will drive at a rapid pace through our crowded streets. There are several of those classes in this city, and it is the duty of the police to arrest every one of them. It should make no difference who the person is that places the lives of the people in jeopardy by speeding horses on the public streets or whirling around street corners at a 240 gait; each one should be "pulled" and made to pay for his reckless disregard of the rights of pedestrians.

A recount of the inhabitants of Ogden by the government is to be asked for. Keep a clean lookout for holdups, sneak thieves and others of that class for the city is full of 'em.

The Democrat does not like the scheme of Salt Lake to boom their city by giving away their daily papers in Ogden. Well, it really makes no difference what motive prompts the action, it cannot fail to benefit Ogden, and no reasonable man desires to injure Salt Lake.

Willis G. Emerson will deliver the oration, as a representative of the Monte Cristo, on the arrival of the royal party this morning, while Major Kiesel will orate on behalf of the city. Governor Thomas will do the welcoming act for the territory. Our guests will have a royal welcome.

The Commercial of this city is neither very large nor very bright, but it is a great brazier. The wind has got into its cabes and swelled it until its size is disproportionate to its diminutive body.

An Accident.

Last evening, shortly after the close of knights' titling tournament and while there were many people on the streets, a delivery team backed out of the yard of the Utah and Oregon Lumber company, between Wall and Lincoln avenues, ran to Lincoln and dashed into a carriage in which were Mrs. Sawtelle, Mrs. Dr. Reed and several children. The carriage was badly smashed and the occupants thrown violently out, but fortunately no serious damage was done. It was one of those accidents for which no one was particularly to blame, but the company who owned the team will repair all damage done.
